

KHMELNYTSKYI is developing an algorithm for adaptive traffic management in order to ensure environmental, social and climate management for increasing the sustainability of cities.

Funded by the European Union